Profile

My heart is to bring Glory to God in exposing and engaging others with the love and message of Jesus. To see people become fully devoted followers of Christ and live their lives like Jesus for Jesus. I am passionate about intentionally investing in people by building & equipping them to become disciples of Jesus who will make disciples who make disciples. I believe the local church is key in transforming communities and peoples lives. I seek to honor God through my love for Him by surrendering to the power and direction of the Holy Spirit in all things. I have a clear call on my heart to lead the local church and to bring glory to God through fulfilling the great commission in sharing the good news of Jesus. I believe that God has so much more for every person no matter where they are on their faith journey and none of us have arrived. I believe that next steps are vital in helping people continue along their faith journey in discovering more of what faith is in God. My calling as a pastor is deep in who I am but will always come behind my own walk with Jesus, my ministry to my wife, and then to my family.
